DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, drawn to an attachment device, classified in class 403, subclass 52.
- II. Claims 11-18, drawn to method of using an attachment device, classified in class 29, subclass 592.
- III. Claims 19-20, drawn to a work machine classified in class 414, subclass 680.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Product/Process of Use

Inventions of Group I as claimed and Group II as claimed are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the attachment device of claim 1 could be used in a process other than that of claim 11. For instance, an attachment device as set forth by claim 1 could be used to non-removably attach the base member to a load-bearing member using a telescopic coupling member.

Inventions of Group III as claimed and Group II as claimed are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the work machine of claim 19 could be used in a process other than that of claim 11. For instance, a work machine as set forth by claim 19 could be used to non-removably attach the base member to a load-bearing member via a sliding bolt and slot positioning device.

Combination / Subcombination

Inventions of Group III as claimed and Group I as claimed are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination of claim 19 does not require the base member, coupling member or attachment means of the claim 1 subcombination. The subcombination has utility in other combinations such as within work machines (e.g. rail mounted engine hoist, robotic manipulator arm, tow-truck sling, etc.) with permanently welded (rather than infinitely attachable) implement-positioning devices (rail, ball joint, chains, etc.)

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Joseph Keen on 6/15/05 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Art Unit: 3679

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of a single invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

If either of inventions III or I is elected the following Species requirement also applies:

Species

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species 3 – embodiment as shown in Fig.2a

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
